Odlum, Floyd B.: Papers, 1892-1976

Accession: A77-12, A77-12/1
Processed by: VJA
Date Completed: 9/24/13

The papers of Floyd B. Odlum were deposited in the Eisenhower Library by Odlum's widow, Jacqueline Cochran, in April and May, 1977.

Linear feet: 81 linear feet
Approximate number of pages: 142,240

The executors of the Floyd Odlum-Jacqueline Cochran estate signed an instrument of gift for the Floyd B. Odlum papers in August 1981. Literary rights in the unpublished writings of Floyd B. Odlum in this collection and in all other collections of papers received by the United States government have been donated to the public. Under terms of the instrument of gift, the following classes of items are withheld from research use:

1. Papers the disclosure of which would constitute an invasion of privacy or a libel of a living person.
2. Papers that are authorized by statute or Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy, and are in fact properly classified pursuant to such statute or Executive Order.

Scope and Content Note

Floyd Bostwick Odlum was born on March 30, 1892 in Union City, Michigan. His father, a Methodist minister later moved the family to Colorado. Odlum attended the University of Colorado where he received a law degree in 1914. He first took a job as an attorney for Utah Power and Light in Salt Lake City and moved to New York City in 1917 to work for Simpson, Thatcher and Bartlett. In 1918 he joined Electric Bond and Share Company, eventually becoming vice president of Foreign Power Company, their foreign subsidiary.

In 1923, with starting capital of $40,000, Odlum, George Howard and their wives co-founded the United States Company to speculate in purchases of utilities and general securities. The company was absorbed by another Odlum firm, Atlas Utilities and Investors Co., Ltd, in 1928. The company was reorganized in 1929 as Atlas Corporation. The primary focus of the company was to invest in special situations.

According to the Atlas Corporation Silver Anniversary Report in 1954, a "special situation, as Atlas uses the term, means an investment in an involving not only primary financial sponsorship, but usually also responsibility for management of the enterprise". This typically involved reorganization, mergers or other measures to strengthen the company and a commitment "to stay with the investment until the essentials of the job have been done, and then to move on the to another special situation."

Atlas had interests in mining, oil and gas, motion picture production and distribution, aircraft and airlines, power and utility companies, department stores, manufacturing, Broadway stage productions, and hotels and buildings. The files also reflect Odlum's interest in the peaceful used of nuclear energy. Among those firms represented in the files are The Babb Company, Northeast Airlines, Consolidated Vultee Corporation (later Convair), Airfleets, Walt Disney Productions, General Dynamics, RKO Pictures, Hutson Nutt-Shel, Federal Resources Corporation and Guidance Technology, Inc.

Odlum's files also reflect his strong interest in philanthropy. In addition to his work with the Arthritis Foundation the files document his relationship with the Air Force Aid Society, Lovelace Foundation, Menninger Foundation, Odlum-Cochran Foundation, Baird Foundation, National Aeronautic Association and the Hertz Foundation.

During World War II, he served as the director of the Division of Contract Distribution in the Office of Production Management from 1941-1942. He also served as a special advisor to the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration.

Odlum married to Hortense McQuarrie in 1915. Following their divorce he married aviator Jacqueline Cochran in 1936. Odlum and Cochran purchased a ranch near Indio, California. After retiring from Atlas Corporation they lived year-round on the Cochran-Odlum Ranch. They provided office space on the ranch to Dwight D. Eisenhower during the 1960s when Eisenhower spent his winters in California.

Odlum died at the age of 84 June 17, 1976, in Indio, California.

Documents within the collection provide insight into Odlum's personal, business and philanthropic activities. Although there are separate series for his business activities and the political and aviation career of his wife, Jacqueline Cochran, both of these are also represented in the general correspondence series. The collection is strongest for both personal and business activities from 1951 until Odlum's death in 1976. For the best insight into his early years with Atlas Corporation, researchers will need to rely on the extensive newspaper clippings files in the Scrapbook Series.

The series in this collection are General Correspondence, Jacqueline Cochran, Business, Speech, and Scrapbook. See the series descriptions for more detailed information. All series in the collection are arranged chronologically.

DESCRIPTION OF SERIES

GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE SERIES, 1934-1976

Boxes 1-114

This series contains personal correspondence, invitations, memoranda, financial reports, proposed business ideas and other related items. Select subjects and individuals are sometimes noted in brackets after the file folder title, but these annotations do not represent a complete list of all subjects or correspondents within that folder. The following are generally not included in the annotations: routine holiday greetings, social invitations and unsolicited requests for advice, investments or money. Notable correspondents in this series include, but are not limited to Sidney Weinberg, Bernard Baruch, Harry Bruno, Frederick Brisson, Rosalind Russell, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Howard Hughes' office, Pierre Sicard, Stuart Symington, Thomas Lanphier, and Chuck Yeager.

Because he knew firsthand how difficult it was to live with arthritis, Odlum often offered support or advice to other arthritis patients and this correspondence is included within the series. He was chairman of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation (later The Arthritis Foundation) and records from his involvement in that organization are also included.

The series is divided into eleven chronological subseries. Each subseries includes a 2-4 year date span, although individual folders sometimes contain subject-relevant documents outside their chronological time frame. Folders are arranged alphabetically within each subseries. Inside the folders documents are arranged in reverse chronological order. Some are also arranged alphabetically by name.

Subjects in this series include routine personal and family matters, invitations, foreign and domestic business activities, politics, the management of trusts and investments, agriculture at the ranch, motion picture and theatrical productions, philanthropic activities, and other related matters.

Subseries within this series are:

Box 1	1934-1950 Files

JACQUELINE COCHRAN SERIES, 1955-1976

Boxes 115-117

This series relates to Jacqueline Cochran's unsuccessful 1956 race to the US House of Representatives from the 29th Congressional District in California, personal correspondence between Cochran and Odium, a trip to the Far East taken by Cochran in 1966, her writings and Odium's death in 1976. Types of documents found in this series include correspondence, campaign-related reports and ephemera, newspaper clippings, valentines, death notices, condolence letters and other related materials. Folders are arranged alphabetically. Inside the folders documents are arranged in reverse chronological order.

BUSINESS SERIES, 1928-1975

Boxes 118-166

The Business Series is arranged alphabetically into nine subseries and relates primarily to the organizational and financial aspects of Odium's business interests. Additional correspondence relating to all of these business activities is located in the General Correspondence Series. Folders are arranged alphabetically within each subseries. Inside the folders documents are arranged in reverse chronological order.

Boxes 118-122 Business Series, Atlas Corporation Subseries, 1928-1961

The Atlas Corporation Subseries contains annual reports from 1928-1961. There are also financial reports and reports for the Baird Foundation. Also included in this series is The Atlas Ticker, a bound copy of the Atlas Corporation newsletter for Atlas employees serving in the military with informal coverage of company news and the home front activities of Atlas employees from 1943-1945.

Boxes 123-126 Business Series, Electro Investors, Inc. Subseries, 1957-1966

Electro Investors, Incorporated was a telecommunications company with interest in KIVA, a television station located in Yuma, Arizona and Valley Telecasting. The financial strength of the station suffered when the Federal Communications Commission issued licenses for additional stations in the market. Founding officers of the company included Floyd Odium, Bruce Odium, Harry Butcher, James, Allen, and Lyle Newcomer.

Boxes 127-128 Business Series, Hutson Nutt-Shel Subseries, 1952-1960

Odium and a group of investors acquired the patents for the Nutt-Shel, an anchoring device for securing nuts invented by Lester E. Hutson. This invention was especially useful in aircraft construction and many of the investors were associated with Convair. The investment group sold the Hutson Nutt-Shel patents in 1959. This subseries consists of correspondence, reports on royalties earned and paid, copies of the patents, documentation of the sale of the patents, and other related documents.

Boxes 129-135 Business Series, Mining Subseries, 1953-1964

This subseries contains documents relating to Odium and Atlas Corporation's business interests in mining operations. These operations were located in the states of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Florida, North Carolina, California, and Arizona. Minerals involved included, but were not limited to, uranium, silver, oil, zinc, mica, salt, lead, gold and copper. The companies mentioned in this subseries include, but are not limited, to the following. Please see the folder descriptions for more information.

Chesapeake and Colorado Corporation

Hidden Splendor Mining Company

Jacob's Chair Mining Corporation

Lone Star Mining

Mule Mountain Minerals
Nuclear Magnetic Mining
Radorock Resources
Silver Sage Oil and Mineral Company
United States Smelting and Refining
Western Oil and Gas Company
Yellow Jeep Mining Company

This subseries contains correspondence, reports, purchase agreements, mineral claims, company by-laws, maps and other related documents. NOTE: See the Business Series, Uranium Subseries for additional mining records.

Boxes 136-141 Business Series, Nomad Productions Subseries, 1951-1967

This subseries contains primarily financial documents relating to Nomad Productions, a film production company headed by Odlum's son, Bruce Odlum. Their most successful project was the 1957 motion picture, A Spanish Affair.

Types of documents found in this subseries include correspondence, board minutes, by-laws, bank records, financial records, tax records, agreements and other related documents.

NOTE: See the Nomad folders in the correspondence series for additional documents relating the production and distribution of A Spanish Affair.

Boxes 142-143 Business Series, Odlum-Cochran Foundation Subseries, 1942-1975

This subseries contains documents relating to the Odlum-Cochran Foundation. Documents within the subseries primarily relate to the finances of the foundation, income tax, and donations to charitable organizations. Minutes of board meetings are also included.

Boxes 144-150 Business Series, Summers Gyroscope Company –Guidance Technology, Inc. Subseries, 1958-1962

Atlas Corporation acquired interest in Summers Gyroscope Company, a manufacturer of military aviation and aeronautical components, in 1958. The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) disputed the acquisition of Summers by Atlas, stating that CAB approval was required due to other aeronautic and aviation business interests held by Atlas. In 1960, following his retirement from Atlas, Odlum purchased Summers from Atlas. The name of the company was changed to Guidance Technology, Inc. (GTI) in 1961.

The series includes correspondence, memoranda, legal documents, financial records, annual reports, press releases, technical data sheets and other related documents.

Boxes 151-161 Business Series, Uranium Subseries, 1954-1967

This subseries contains documents relating to Odlum and Atlas Corporation's business interests in Uranium mining operations. Documents relate to mining in the western United States, as well potential uranium mining in Mexico, Portugal, and Yemen and the potential for petroleum and natural gas in Italy.

The companies and investment groups mentioned in this subseries include, but are not limited, to the following. Please see the folder descriptions for more information.

Big Jim Mining Company

Bronson and Cooper Mining Company
Bullion Mining Company
Catorce Corporation
Consolidated Uranium Mines, Inc.
Davidson Syndicate
Fat Cat Associates
Federal Uranium Corporation (also had interests in silver mining)

White Canyon Mining Company

This subseries contains correspondence, reports, memoranda, legal documents, purchase agreements, mineral claims, company by-laws, maps and other related documents.

NOTE: See the Business Series, Mining Subseries for additional uranium mining records.

Boxes 162-166 Business Series, Miscellaneous Financial Papers Subseries, 1924-1975

This series primarily consists of Odlum's personal ledgers from 1936-1963. The ledgers for 1956, 1960 and 1961 were not included when the collection was donated. Additional documents include correspondence, memoranda, reports and legal documents relating to his financial interests, including Atlas Corporation annual reports for 1935 and 1936.

SPEECH SERIES, 1930-1966

Boxes 167-170

This series consists of Floyd Odlum's speeches, statements and writings. It also includes correspondence, press releases and newspaper clippings relating to his speeches and speaking engagements. Speech folders are arranged chronologically by year. Inside the folders documents are arranged in reverse chronological order. Folders of correspondence are arranged alphabetically by name.

SCRAPBOOK SERIES, 1908-1973

Boxes 171-188

This series consists with print materials, newspaper clippings and ephemera not included in scrapbooks and intact oversized scrapbooks. Photograph albums were transferred to the Audiovisual Department and a list of the albums and other audiovisual material transferred is included in the scrapbook materials section of the series. Some of the loose items appear to have been formerly glued into scrapbooks, but were detached at some point. The print materials are arranged alphabetically by title.

The newspaper clippings and ephemera are housed together and arranged chronologically. Clippings cover almost every aspect of Odlum's and Jacqueline Cochran's business and personal life, including aviation, Atlas Corporation, the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, travel and many other topics. Researchers should review the General Correspondence Series for information on the specific focus of Odlum's activities in any specific year. The ephemera includes programs from dinners and meetings, steamship passenger lists, tourist brochures, picture postcards, Presidential inauguration memorabilia, and other items. Only select events are mentioned in the folder description; additional dinners, meeting programs and travel items are in each folder.

Scrapbooks are arranged chronologically.
